

DIARY DATES

This week (28th November 2022 – 2nd December 2022)

This week in assembly we have explored the question: Are some jobs more important than others? We have linked this to the story in the news about nurses in the Royal College of Nursing (RCN) union voting for the union's first UK-wide strike in its 106-year history.

On Tuesday, Class 5 participated in Sports hall athletics. The children all showed great determination skills in their individual events, with closely fought wins in the running races – well done Class 5!

In Science lessons this term, Class 3 have been learning about The Human Body. Mr McVie, orthopaedic surgeon from James Cook Hospital, worked with Class 3 to support their understanding of the skeleton. He brought along George the skeleton and Class 3 had to sketch parts of the skeleton and body. Afterwards, Mr McVie explained where the parts were located and told Class 3 the scientific names. He told the class what to expect working within his job role. Mr McVie also talked to classes 4 and 5 about their future job aspirations.

Democracy

We all have a voice and the right to use it. Nurses in the Royal College of Nursing union have voted to strike, which is one way people can share their voice.
