

This week (5th December 2022 – 9th December 2022)

This year, the BBC (British Broadcasting Corporation) marks 100 years of broadcasting. In assembly this week we explored the question 'Are television channels as important as they once were?'

On Tuesday, Nursery and Reception went to the Northern Stage to see a production of 'Hey Diddle Diddle' - the children had a fantastic time! Our KS2 children also had a wonderful afternoon singing Christmas Carols at Quarrington Hill Community Centre. The children sang beautifully and we also had a amazing audience.

This week, children from Key Stage 2 went to London. The children enjoyed a production of Matilda in the West End and visited the National History Museum, where they learnt lots of amazing facts. The Children also had the opportunity to visit the Tower of London, the Bank of England Museum and also enjoyed a flight on the London Eye!

Today we celebrated our Christmas jumper day by asking the children to wear their Christmas jumpers and making a small donation that will be sent to St Cuthbert's hospice in Durham – thank you for your kind donations.

Individual Liberty

With such a huge variety of entertainment available on our screens, we can choose what to watch. We can take some responsibility for our viewing to ensure we have a healthy amount of screen time.

The BBC was the first broadcasting company in the UK and is now 100 years old. We have the right to get information from the internet, radio, television, newspapers, books and other sources.
